New Uppingham Housing Trust Awarded Government Funding

Executive Summary

An Uppingham First proposal to build affordable housing for younger people in Rutland has received government support in the form of an offer of a £75k grant (subject to due diligence) from Homes England. The grant will support the creation of the 'Badley Affordable Housing Trust' and an initial proposal to build up to 10 homes on the site of an old disused orchard in Uppingham donated by the Badley family. The grant award marks further recognition of the forward looking proposals contained within the Uppingham Town Centre & Business Plan (UTC&BZ Plan – Action 10)) and builds upon a Locality funded pre-feasibility study undertaken by a 2018 Task Group led by Uppingham First Vice Chair and County Councillor Edward Baines. Trustees for the new initiative will be drawn from community leaders and task group members including David Ainslie (Chair of the Limes, Firs and Spurs Residents Association), Graham Allison (Retired Chartered Surveyor), Mark Shaw (Chair of the Beeches Residents Association) Janet Thompson (Chair of the Uppingham Neighbourhood Forum), Geoff Thompson (Chair of Governors at Uppingham Community College), Margaret Simpson (Rotary in Uppingham and the E J Toon Charitable Trust) and Ron Simpson BEM (Chair of the Uppingham Business Forum). The initiative has the support of the Uppingham Neighbourhood and Business Forums and the Uppingham Vanguard Board. Work is expected to commence on the project immediately.

Further information on the project can be obtained from Ron Simpson rons@clara.net Tel: 01572 823465 Mobile: 07710 328469. Prospective trustees will hold their first meeting on April 12th 2019. Until legally formed, the group will be facilitated by Uppingham First.

1. Background Information

The UTC&BZ Plan (pre and post public consultation versions can be viewed at www.uppinghamneighbourhoodplan.info and the orchard housing proposal as Action 10 on page 15.

A report on the Locality funded pre- feasibility study of the project which incorporated some preliminary design work and a youth engagement event can be viewed at www.uppinghamonline.co.uk

Further funding for the infrastructure and environmental aspects of the Badley Orchard site and a proportion of the capital cost of building the homes is also available from Homes England.

Significantly, the proposed Trust is seeking approval to become a Registered Housing Provider and Investment Partner with Homes England. This will ensure 100% local control of the building and governance of any future homes. An alternative would have been to partner with an established Housing Association.

Beeches Residents Association Chair Mark Shaw said, “The prospective trustee aim is to provide affordable housing for the aspiring young people of Uppingham. With this Homes England award, and the dedication of the trustees, there is a huge opportunity to deliver on this amazing community project”.

Former Town Mayor and Chair of the Limes, Firs and Spurs Residents Association David Ainslie said, “Providing truly affordable housing for young people is critical for the sustainability of our town. This award is a huge step towards achieving that goal and shows what can be achieved when the community works together for the common good.”

Chair of Uppingham Community College Governors Geoff Thompson said, “We know how difficult it is for some young people to find housing that they can afford in Uppingham. We have been asking young people what they need from a local housing project and researching the best way to deliver to their needs. So we are delighted that Homes England has agreed to support the project.”

3. Summary

The primary challenge for the new Trust will be to find a way of creating truly affordable homes to rent and/or purchase. With the help of the national Locality Community Led Housing Network, prospective trustees have been researching innovative new ways of funding and managing start up home opportunities for the under 35s. These include community shares and other forms of community finance as well as the more traditional sources of finance. The possibility of some capital grants toward the cost of building community led housing from Homes England is an added incentive to launch the project at this time. The partnership is grateful to the Badley family (Gerald Badley is a retired prison governor who was Uppingham undertaker E J Toon’s last apprentice) for the offer of the orchard site as a first step for the new Trust. It is hoped other landowners and housing developers will step forward with similar offers in the future.
